A Little Bit O'Jesus

By: Olivia Kuhlman

Sometimes an individual's journey of faith can be lonely. That's why it is important for students to come together to share that part of their lives.

Mrs. Edwards took Abby, Lyla, and Neil to be congregating Cats for Christ on November 15 and 16 at Salina.

The FCA Conference is a big gathering for junior high and high school students in all of Kansas, held in the fall and spring for basically two days. There are speakers, worship times, smaller breakout sessions, group huddles, and sports/game times. Former Wallace County student, Ethan Cain, was also at the FCA conference as a huddle leader.

rating from the three students was 9.3 out of 10 and it sounded like they had a blast! Their favorite sports to play were handball and basketball and their favorite parts of the whole conference were worship time and learning about the people there who gave talks.

They also enjoyed the Q & A session where you can ask, or write a question on a notecard and the people there will answer it. They learned that they need to be bold for Christ and to not be afraid to share the gospel with others.

Abby, Lyla, Neil, and Mrs. Edwards were definitely on fire when they came back to school on Monday, and it was great to see how they radiated joy around the school!

November 14-16th, USD 241 put on the Addams Family Young @Part fall play. This tells the story of the Addams family stepping into a new adventure when Wednesday, played by Keely Klinge, falls in love with a "normal" boy named Lucas Beineke, played by Chris Martin. This resulted in Gomez, played by Kayson Brown, trying to keep this a secret from his wife, Morticia, played by Layla Cox. It all comes to a climax during the family's dinner one fateful night as they host the Beineke family.

This year saw several new faces take on the lead roles, and the experience was one they won't forget.

When asked why she went out for the play, Layla Cox said, "I have a big love for musical theater and music in general. I enjoy acting and singing, especially if the musical we perform is a comedy."

She also spoke about of similarities and differences between her character. "We are both tall and pale with long hair, and we both have a hatred for being 'too normal'."

Keely Klinge said, "My favorite scene was the dinner scene. Why, everyone was there, and the lines were funny, also the song during the scene was the best."

Freshman Tye Poe, who played Wednesday's younger brother Pugsley, jumped in with both feet and realized the balance of playing a main role was tricky.

Poe said, "(It was) trying to figure out how to make my character work for me but being able to play the role... and get over my stage fright and fear of singing in front of people."

Thankfully, all those involved with the play worked incredibly hard, overcame stage fright, and that hard work paid off with spectacular performances Friday for the school, and then Saturday and Sunday for the community.
